

WA Health Minister, Roger Cook

WA Education Minister, Sue Ellery

WA Child Protection Minister, Simone McGurk

25 January 2019

To the Honourable Minister Cook and Minister Ellery,

Re The New Regulations for No Jab No Play

Please could you clarify the new regulations that you announced in December 2018 regarding NJNPlay in WA. There is significant community concern regarding these new regulations that enforce vaccination (a medical intervention) by removing social services that many parents cannot choose not to use.

In your media statement (14 December 2018) regarding the Phase 1 regulations you informed the public that the Chief Health Officer (CHO) would be given enhanced powers to exclude unvaccinated children from childcare centres when there is a disease outbreak.

This has been reported in the West Australian newspaper as 'the health officer will be able to stop unvaccinated children from enrolling at childcare centres and kindergarten, without there being an outbreak'.

1) Can you please confirm whether the new powers given to the CHO in the Phase 1 regulations (1 January 2019) will allow the CHO to stop healthy under-vaccinated children from enrolling in these facilities even when there is no outbreak of disease?

If the answer is yes, can you please provide me with the reason why the CHO needs this enhanced power when there is no health risk to the community? What has changed to require this power?

The government's media statement (14 December 2018) claims that 95% vaccination rate is needed to protect others in the community.

2) Please provide evidence of where the 16 mandated vaccines have been used in any community with an uptake rate of 95% to control disease? Can you provide evidence that even one of these vaccines has ever been used with a 95% uptake to control the disease?

If the government cannot provide this evidence then why is it mandating 16 vaccines with an uptake of 95% and claiming that it will "improve the health of children"?

3) Please provide the statistics showing that children's health has improved as the number and uptake rate of vaccines has increased in the Australian community (over the last two decades).

The government cannot provide this evidence because it doesn't exist. Children's health has significantly declined over the last 20 years with many chronic illnesses and disabilities increasing in children.

Roger Cook has stated in the government's press release that this is a "common sense change to public health regulations".

This is only a common sense change if Roger Cook can provide the evidence requested above. If he cannot, then any politician who brings in this change will be held accountable for the deaths and illnesses that this policy will cause in Australian children.

The government is mandating a medical intervention that is being enforced in social services policies because many parents cannot choose not to use childcare. This will also discriminate against healthy children in these services - a breach of human rights.

Fully Informed Consent to Vaccination:

In order for the government to comply with the directive for fully informed consent to vaccination without coercion, manipulation or pressure (The Australian Immunisation Handbook (Ed 10)) it must provide all politicians and parents with the ingredients of vaccines and validate that the combination and doses of these ingredients in the mandated vaccines is safe.

The public is requesting that Ministers Roger Cook and Sue Ellery sign a declaration claiming that the combination of the ingredients in the mandated vaccines will not cause death or disability in any child. And if it will, then what percentage of children will be harmed?

The government's No Jab No Pay/Play policies do not comply with the Nuremberg Code for preventing governments from experimenting on the population if the government cannot provide the public with the evidence requested above.

Many parents cannot choose not to use childcare and kindergarten facilities and these are facilities that they are entitled to in a democratic country. They also cannot choose not to receive the government's welfare benefits - their livelihood depends upon it.

The community requests this evidence before any No Jab No Play policies are implemented in Western Australia.

Yours Sincerely,

Judy Wilyman PhD
