

Response to Newsletter 165 The Removal of "Informed Consent without Coercion" in Australia

20 July 2017

It was brought to my attention that some people are misrepresenting the statements in Newsletter 165 and they are suggesting that informed consent in Australia has not been removed. However, I have stated that "informed consent without coercion" has been removed in Australia in the No Jab No Pay legislation.

This is a violation of the Good Medical Practice Guidelines and it has allowed a discriminatory social welfare policy to be implemented that breaches International Human Rights Covenants.

Here is the evidence from the Australian Immunisation Handbook (Ed 10 NHMRC) (section 2.1.3):

1. Informed consent to vaccination must be given voluntarily in the absence of undue, pressure coercion and manipulation
2. It can only be given after the potential risks and benefits of the relevant vaccine, risks of not having it, and any alternative options have been explained to the individual.

These criteria have been violated in Australian Social welfare policies such as the No Jab No Pay and the recently recommended No Jab No Play. These policies have also been extended to adults 20 years of age. Adult mandatory vaccination can now be implemented.

A financial incentive is "pressure" and currently the Australian government has violated both of these ethical guidelines that are in the Good Medical Practice Guidelines for doctors and embedded in the Nuremberg Code to prevent experimentation on the population.

Sweden has recently banned mandatory vaccinations because of serious health concerns and because the policies violate human rights. These reasons apply to all populations and there is no justification for mandatory and coercive policies in any country. The Australian government has made false claims about the safety and necessity to mandate 16+ vaccines in infants and children and this will endanger population health.
